

Country: Italy

Project title: Sky Guardians

Dissemination task plan
The Core Need (Our Assumption): What is the main problem we want to solve?	The severe, recurring wildfires that have hit and continue to destroy Sicilian territories. The project aims to combat the lack of awareness regarding environmental protection and offer an active response to the ongoing climate crisis.
Our Needs Assessment Strategy: How will we prove this need exists? (Survey, focus group, interview, something else?)	We conducted a survey using Google Forms. The collected data officially proved the urgent need for information and revealed a strong desire among the youth to find solutions starting from small, everyday actions.

Who is our target audience?	Local youth and the broader community across Sicilian municipalities, reached directly through local Youth Councils
What do you want to achieve in your local community? What is your goal/objective?	To raise awareness and inform citizens about the environmental crisis with a direct focus on wildfires. The objective is to convert awareness into collective action through engaging, informal, and accessible community events.
How will we use the tools, methods, or ideas from our workshop (e.g., finding allies, using advocacy, creating safe spaces, motivating passive youth) to make our local project more successful?	To make our local project successful, we will put the core workshop methods directly into practice by building a strong network of allies through active partnerships with the Youth Councils, across each involved municipality. Rather than relying on traditional or overly formal lectures, we will create safe, open, and engaging spaces by integrating environmental advocacy into relaxed social formats—such as outdoor cinema screenings, book clubs, sip-and-paint sessions, and aperitifs paired with topical discussions. This informal approach allows us to meet passive youth in settings where they already feel comfortable, breaking down barriers to entry and making complex climate discussions accessible. Ultimately, by connecting relevant information with hands-on, community-driven experiences, we aim to transform passive concern about the Sicilian wildfire crisis into meaningful, everyday local action.
